THE OUTLOOK MOST DARK

PEACE SETTLEMENT MORE REMOTE THAN EVER

Japan's Modified Terms Rejected by Witte—The Last Move Believed to Have Been Made—Adjourn Till Saturday.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 23.—Peace between Russia and Japan is assured if the mikado's government takes at to day's session of the plenipotentiaries the concessions which it contemplates.

Japan's proposition is this: "If Russia will buy from her the island of Sakhalin, which is now in the possession of her army, Japan will waive all claims for a reimbursement of her war expenditures, relinquishing her demand for the surrender of the interned warships and her proposition for the limitation of Russian naval strength in the far east. These have been the only questions in dispute. It is due to the intervention of President Roosevelt that the modifications of Japan's original demands has been determined upon. Her first proposal was to sell half of the island of Sakhalin to the Russians, retaining the other half. This offer was spurned by Russia, for the reason that such a deal would inevitably lead to dissensions in the future."

The Japanese plenipotentiaries at the conclusion of the afternoon session to day of the peace conference threw the cards upon the table. It was the dramatic moment—the moment to which all the previous proceedings of the conference had led. Protocols involving an agreement upon eight of the twelve conditions originally presented by Japan had been signed. One side or the other must make a move or the plenipotentiaries had reached the parting of the ways. The adversaries faced each other across the table. Of course, it was well understood what would happen, but that, in a way, only made it the more dramatic.

Figuratively, President Roosevelt suddenly entered the conference room. Witte sat silent and the move in the great diplomatic game passed to Japan. Komura in a few words explined that Japan in her gret desire for peace was ready to make certain "modifications" of the original articles in the hope that Russia could find it possible to accept them. He then presented in writing to Witte the compromise proposition which President Roosevelt had suggested. It was concrete and specific and it followed the lines outlined in these dispatches. It offered to withdraw article 9, providing for payment by Russia of Japan's bill for the cost of the war, on condition that Russia would accept article 5, which provides for cession of Sakhalin, so modified as to include an arrangement for the repurchase by Russia of the northern half of the island for 1,200,000 yen. In addition, it offered to withdraw entirely articles 11 and 12 (surrender of interned warships and limitation upon Russia's sea power in the far east).

It was President Roosevelt's compromise, and Witte knew its contents as well as Komura. The question whether he had been "bluffing" was put to the test. Without a moment's hesitation Witte explained that the modification proposed was merely a sham, a change of phraseology, a diplomatic attempt to "dorer la pilule," nd ask Russia to pay a war tribute under another name. He could not accept it. He told Komura Russia wanted peace. She had given the proofs in accepting every article involving the issues upon which the war was fought, but she could fight, and omney for tribute she would not pay, not a kopec. He asked Komura to withdraw all demands for tribute.

And so the plenipotentiaries separated, to meet again Saturday, ostensibly to permit Witte to place in writing, as the rules of the conference require, his reply to the Japanese compromise proposition. In reality the adjournment was to give each side an opportunity to consult its government for the last time.

The outlook is black, many believe it was never so black as to night. The Japanes are not talking. Indeed, to night they seem more taciturn and more resolute than ever. The only possible line of further Japanese concession is considered to lie in the dimunition of the amount of purchase money demanded for the north half of Sakhalin. The decision rests, therefore, as it has from the first, with Russia. Unless the emperor agrees to yield between now and Saturday, the end is likely to come on that day.

Indications from Peterhof seem to indicate a firmer determination to yield neither territory nor indemnity. The long instruction received last night, while not a reply to the communication of President Ronsevelt given to Witte yesterday afternoon, was of a character almost completely to destroy the hope that it will be possible for Witte to satisfy the Japanese demand. Witte himself has been quoted as saying he would not, if ordered to do so by the emperor, sign a treaty involving the payment of a kopec. But it must be borne in mind that Witte in the negotiations is not a free agent. He represents his emperor. If he were absolutely free this conefrence would not fail. He would make peace. He sympathizes with the solution offered by the president, but his hands are tied and unless he receives an imperial command he cannot move.

Black as the prospect appears to night, however, failure of the negotiations is not certain. The Russian camp is pessimistic to a man, but they all know the quick and startling changes of front that sometimes take place at Peterhof. And there are factors in the situation which might effect one of these sudden and inexplicable changes in the emperor's attitude which have frequently astonished Russia.

Private advices from St. Petersburg say that sentiment there, in Moscow and in large centers favors acceptance of the compromise. This may mean much. But the real hope still rests with President Roosevelt. He is resourceful. He has made another move. He has sent Ambassador Meyer direct to the emperor, and they were together, according to advices received here, for three hours to day. President Roosevelt himself to night may know more about how the emperor feels than Witte and be able to act upon information conveyed to him by his ambassador.

A report is industdiously circulated here that Emperor William is responsible for the cattitude of Emperor Nicholas and everything is traced back to the meeting of the two emperors on board the Hohenzollern in the Finnish gulf. In support of this it is positively stated that after the interview Witte's instructions were made stronger and more upyielding.

SEES THE EMPEROR.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 23.—American Ambassador Meyer had an audience with Emperor Nicholas at Peterhof this afternoon, which lasted three hours. Presumably peace was discussed at length, but nothing can be ascertained at present regarding what actully took pice, as the embassy declines to give out any statement. It is known, however, a long cable has been sent to Washington giving results of the conference.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 23.—The Associated Press has the best of reasons and authority for declaring again, with increased emphasis, that Russia will never consent to payment of indemnity to Japan. Furthermore, the Associated Press has the same reason and authority for the declaration that if Japn withdraw her indemnity demand, peace would practically be saured, as the Russian attitude on the other three points, including the cession of Sakhalin, does not preclude the possibility of reaching a satisfactory settlement on these points.

RUSSIANS ISSUE STATEMENT

IN REGARD TO THE LATEST PROPOSITION

Declare it is Only Another Way of Demanding Indemnity—Claim to Have Conceded Everything Reasonable.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 23.—An authoritative statement was made to the Associated Press to night explaining the Russian position with regard to the latest stage of the peace negotiations. The statement declares that the proposition presented by Japan to day that Russia repurchase the northern half of Sakhalin for 1,200,000 yen contains no new proposition. The only difference between that and the demand for indemnity is the phraseology in which it is couched. All that Japan does, the statement declares, "is to join the question of Sakhalin with that of cash payment and to insist upon war costs under the name of purchase money. The transaction is fictitious and the terminology misleading. If what is proposed is to be in truth a purchase and sale, it should be treated as such, and therefore should Russia decline to buy the territory Japan should keep it and conclude peace on the basis of concessions already made. Again, if a purely business transaction were indeed intended the value of the territory offered would be the basis on which the two parties would treat. But here even this essential condition is not observed. The price demanded for the northern half of the island is 1,200,000 yen, which is the original estimate of the war costs.

"Possibly Japan may have fixed that sum with the intention of whittling it down to some extent later on, but Russia, mindful of her national honor, her military strength and her historic traditions, will not and cannot consent to pay a war indemnity by whatever name it may be called, nor can she, nor indeed the world at large, regard Japan's proposal as a proof of a genuine desire for peace.

"Japan, having obtained all that she needed and longed for as a nation, now narrows the issue to a question of dollars and cents, yet refuses for peace sake to waive her demand. Russia, on the contrary, has conceded freely and fully everything she could give consistentlty with her sense of national honor and dignity. Hence what to Japan is but a matter of money is to Russia a point of honor. To withdraw the cash claim is, therefore, immensurably easier to Japan than it would be for Russia to allow it. Russia has suffered reverses owing to her own lack of organization, her unpreparedness and her internal disorders, but she is still a mighty and unconquered nation whose people will enthusiastically uphold their representatives in their firm resolve to keep the national escutcheon immaculate."

The statement continues:

"If, therefore, the efforts of American friends are to be crowned with success, if the labors of the conference are not to end in smoke and if the effusion of blood in the far east is to be terminated, it behooves Japan to make a frank declaration that she withdraws once for all and without reserve her demand to have her war costs paid in any shape or form."

It concludes with the declaration that "peace is not and cannot be assured until Japan unreservedly withdraws her claim to have the costs of the campaign refunded by Russia."

FEVER IN ILLINOIS

Brownsville, Ill., Aug. 23.—With over three hundred laborers here exposed to contagion by a negro from Shreveport, who admits he came from an infected yellow fever point, and who now lies critically ill with the fever here, the people of Brownsville are to day in fear of an epidemic becoming general at this point. Many citizens have been exposed to the disease. Strict quarantine regulations have been instituted.

RAILROADS DEFRAUDED.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—A conspiracy by which railroads centering in Chicago have lost transportation estimated to be worth $20,000 was made public to day by the discharge of O. C. Olsen from the employ of the Santa Fe railroad. Olsen was President E. D. Ingley's chief stenographer and took care of the issuing of passes. It is alleged that by free use of sign blanks Olsen secured transportation and disposed of it to outsiders.

TWENTY INJURED

Crowded Trains Collide at Coney Is'and Terminal Station.

The wreck was caused by a train entering the terminal and striking a crowded one about to leave for the city. Falling wires coming in contact with the tracks sent up thick masses of sparks and there was a wild panic among passengers, during which many women were trampled under foot.

TO SEARCH FOR GOLD MINE.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 23.—Led by a woman, a part yorganized to search for a "lost mine," said to contain enough gold to pay the national debt, left this city Tuesdy for the Uintah Indian reservation. The search is for the famous "Rhodes lost mine," and the widow of Caleb Rhodes, its discoverer, declares her husband told her on his deathbed the site of its location. It is regarded as certain that such a mine exists. Rhodes lived luxuriously from the proceeds of secret trips to extract from the mine some of its fabulous gold treasure. How he discovered it never was learned. Mrs. Rhodes is confident she can lead the searchers to the spot and show them the most valuable gold mine ever discovered on this continent.

The opening of the Uintah reservation makes it possible for Mrs. Rhodes to go to the mine and obtain a government patent on the claim.

WILL REFUSE LOAN

Jewish Financiers Demand First the Emancipation of Their Russian Brethren

Liverpool, Aug. 23.—According to the Post, the Rothschilds and other Jewish banking houses have assued the position in regard to the proposed loan to Russia, that they will not participate in advancing money to that nation unless the emancipation of the Russian Jews has been made an accomplished fact. These great financial concerns will not even consider the question of making a loan until the concessions demanded have actually been made. The Rothschilds recall that on a previous occasion a loan was made to Russia conditionally, but after the money was advanced the conditions were never carried out. They do not propose to be hoodwinked again and for that reason have taken the stand that the concessions must have been made before the money will be advanced.

STEADILY LOSING GROUND

YELLOW FEVER NOT VIRULENT IN FORM.

Little Variation from the Improvement of the Past Week is Shown in the Situation at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Aug. 23.—Fever report to 6 p. m.:

New cases, 63.

Total cases, 1,556.

Deaths, 5.

Total deaths, 219.

Little variation from the steady improvement of the past week marked to day's numerical record of the yellow fever situation. The variation was in the nature of an improvement, for with the light death list there is assurance that the fever has at present no tendency to assume a virulent form.

Some soldiers stationed at the United States barracks are restless under their enforced quarantine. Communication with the city has been absolutely prevented and appearance of fever in St. Bernard makes it probable no communication with that parish will be allowed. Not a case of fever has appeared in the barracks and the soldiers are considered to be absolutely in no danger.

A freshly infected spot in St. Bernard parish was announced to day. It is at Terre Aux Boeufs. Health Officer Mereaux found five genuine cases and three suspicious.

AT CAIRO.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 23.—The state of Illinois and the United States government had trouble for a few hours duration here to day and the United States was worsted. A force of seventeen inspectors, in charge of Superintendent Brame of the marine hospital service, are looking after quarantine regulations south of Illinois. Three of these inspectors have been making their headquarters in Cairo, coming into Illinois from Mississippi and Louisiana against the orders of the state and the city of Cairo. Secretary Egan of the state board of health advised these inspectors to day that they could no longer enter Cairo. The matter was finally adjusted by the government agreeing to send only immunes into Cairo and these will be allowed to enter.

Secretary Egan is watching the result of the fever at Gregory, Mo., and may be compelled to protect that portion of Illinois near Gregory from the disease.

A report from Dr. Stark, health state officer at La Fourche, to night says Dr. Devron reported to him to day that he had found 170 cases of yellow fever and 200 cases of dengue at Leeville.

SAVED BY TELEPHONE.

Winona, Minn., Aug. 23.—By the use of the telephone the family of Frank Sanners, consisting of seven persons, was saved from death to day by a cyclone which did great damage to buildings and crops in this county. The family was eating dinner when a neighbor telephoned that a funnel-shaped cloud was sweeping toward the house. The family ran to a clump of willows, where they lay face downward. They had scarcely reached the place before the storm lifted the house from its foundations and dashed it to pieces on the ground some distance away with hardly a board unbroken.

Germany's Fruit and Agricultural Trade Menaced by Foreign Producers

Birmingham, England, Aug. 23.—The Post is authority for the statement that the German colonial authorities are sending commissioners to Canada and Australia and South Africa to investigate and report on the agricultural and fruit growing industries of those countries.

The agricultural products and fruits of the countries named are rapidly coming into competition with the German home product and Germany is determined to restrict their importation. The investigation to be made is for the purpose of determining how Germany can best protect herself against the undesirable competition.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

Readville, Mass., Aug. 23.—Three well fought harness races for three famous stakes—the $10,000 Massachusetts, $5,000 Neponset and $3,000 Tyro—closed the Grand circuit meeting at the Readville track to day. Sadie Mac took the first in record time for the event. Allerson won the second after six heats had been run off, while Katherine L. captured the third. Miss Wilkes, of Galt, Ont., is owner of Sadie Mac and Katherine L., while Allerson is the property of W. H. McDoel, of Chicago.

In no year since inception of the event in 1896, except when Boralma won, has the winner of the race so outclassed the field as did Sadie Mac to day. The time in the initial heat lowered the record for the stake a full second.

The Neponset dragged along for six heats and saw the contestants so weary at the end that the time fell back from 2:05¼ to 2:13. James Brady drove Allerson a very clever race. He laid up the first heat when the gray gelding made a break at the quarter pole and afterward timed his finishing drives to perfection.

The Tyro saw the largest field of youngsters that has faced the starting judge in several years. The filly Katherine L. held her field at her mercy. All previous records of the season by 3-year-olds were broken by more than a second. Summaries:

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Aug. 23.—David T. Stubbs, cashier for the Citizens' Gas and Electric company, has been found short in his accounts and was arrested this afternoon on a charge of embezzling $1,875 of the company's funds. Stubbs admits a discrepancy of at least $1,500 will be shown in his accounts. Stubbs was formerly connected with the Omaha National bank as paying teller. Previous to that time he was employed in a bank here and one at Delap, Iowa.

Cottonseed Meal For Hogs.

A lively interest continues in the subject of feeding cottonseed meal to hogs, especially in Texas. Good or poor success seems to depend upon the manner of using it. The Georgia experiment station reports: In December we began using the souring method with two pens of pigs, three to four animals in each pen, and since the middle of January we have fed three pens continuously on feeds containing sour cottonseed meal without any injurious results up to the present time.

POLICE MAKE ARRESTS

CHICAGO'S LATEST MURDER CASE

Officers Exerting Every Effort to Secure the Footpads who Killed Mrs Mize TuesdayNight While Walking.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The police to day made a number of arrests in connection with the murder of Mrs. Effie Mize, who was shot last night by a robber, but all were released late in the afternoon with the exception of William Bracey, a colored man. Bracey has been a waiter at the Holland hotel and was positively identified by Nora O'Hara and Nellie Curran, tow maids employed in the Del Prado hotel, as a man they saw following Mrs. Mize and Mrs. Wilson, her companion, a short time before the shooting. Both girls had worked in hotels with Bracey and knew him well. They declared they could not identify him with the shooting, but are emphatic in their declaration Bracey was close to the women at the time Mrs. Mize was killed. Bracey admits walking on Washington avenue a short time before Mrs. Mize was shot, but says he went away and was not in the neighborhood when the crime was committed.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 23.—The resolutions committee of the national irrigation commissions struck a stumbling block at its meeting to day over the resolution declaring there is no connection between the National Irrigation congress and the National Irrigation association. After considerable discussion a substitute resolution by Senator Carter of Montana, stating that the National Irrigation congress never has and never will have any connection with the National Irrigation association, was adopted.

STRUCK BY BUGGY

Daniel C. Brown, a Deaf Mute, Thrown to the Pavement on the Square—Injuries Not Serious.

Daniel C. Brown, a deaf mute who resides at 1147 King street, was knocked down and painfully injured at about eight o'clock Wednesday evening by a horse and buggy driven by F. O. Crabtree. He suffered a scalp wound and severe bruise of the right side, and his injuries, while very painful, are not regared as serious. The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. Hairgrove and later to his home.

Mr. Brown was crossing the pavement to the northwest corner of the park and Mr. Crabtree was driving north from West State street. He was driving in a slow trot, and as he approached Mr. Brown the latter looked up and Mr. Crabtree supposed that he saw him. As he failed to get out of the way, however, Mr. Crabtree pulled up his horse and stopped. The buggy ran forward far enough to strike the man and throw him to the pavement. Mr. Crabtree removed the man to Dr. Hairgrove's office, where his injuries were attended, and later had him removed to his home in a carriage.

Mr. Brown is an industrious man, and is at present employed at the School for the Deaf as gardner. He has a family, and has been peculiarly unfortunate in the matter of accidents, having suffered several of a more or less serious character in the last few years.

NO MINISTER THERE.

Peoria, Aug. 23.—The funeral of W. B. McClellan, of Nokomis, was a most peculiar one. He was laid at rest in the cemetery at Elmwood and there was no minister, no hearse, no mourners and none of the usual accompaniments of a funeral. He was about 70 years of age and for fifteen years had conducted a general store at Nokomis, where he made money. When the doctor told him he was dying of Bright's disease, with no possible chance of recovery, he named R. C. Haulon and John Thorp as executors, and placed the following unusual requirements on his burial, all of which were carried out, though his body was removed from his home to the cemetery, overland, in a spring wagon:

First—That no undertaker should embalm his body or have anything to do with it.

Second—That no car wheels should turn under his coffin.

Third—That he should have a metallic casket which should be placed in a specially constructed vault.

Fourth—That his remains should be interred in the cemetery at Elmwood, Peoria county.

Fifth—That no preacher should be around when he was laid to rest.

Sixth—That no hearse should be used.

Seventh—That none of his relatives should be notified of his death until one day after his burial.

You Never Know the Moment When this Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Jacksonville to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itchiness of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

George Carter, of 212 North Caldwell street, says: "I can with pleasure recommend Doan's Ointment to any one troubled in any way with an irritation of the skin. Ever after I had an attack of fever I had a severe irritation of my scalp and medical treatment, though persisted in, did not remove it. In fact, did not help it. I saw Doan's Ointment so highly recommended that, acting on the advice, I procured a box from Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store. I used it as directed and a few applications were sufficient to entirely relieve me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure gives way, the building is bound to come down. This principle can be applied to disease. Take medicine that will remove the cause of sickness, and a cure is sure to follow. Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick-headache and biliousness, their foundation is stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure druggists sell for 25c per box. It is Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. One for a dose. They make the cure by taking away the cause. Write to Dr. Bonsako Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by Lee P. Allcott.

THEFT ON TRAIN.

He failed to give bond and was put in the county jail at Virginia. The suit case belonged to Mrs. A. F. Franks, of this city, who was enroute to Missouri, and it was stolen from a Burlington train.

NEWS NOTES FROM ILLINOIS TOWNS

Cisco Man Knew He Was Insane Drowns in a Trough—Virginia Carnival—Row at Vandalia—Other Items.

KNEW HE WAS INSANE.

Frank Watson, of near Cisco, applied to the county judge of Macon county for a certificate which under the statute would enable him to be taken to the Jacksonville hospital and there treated for insanity. It is not usual that this method is taken by any one, yet Watson realized that he was on the verge of insanity and wanted to be treated for it at once. Judge Shonkwiler issued the necessary papers and Sheriff Clow brought him to Jacksonville.

ROW AT VANDALIA.

Aldermen George Schmidt and Charles Howard were assaulted by A. J. Howell and Jesse Davis. Both the city fathers were severly cut and beaten on the head and face. Alderman Schmidt lost an eye and is in a precarious condition. At the preliminary examination both Howell and Davis were held to the grand jury, in the sum of $3,000 each. The feeling was so strong against the prisoners that it took all the city police and sheriff and several deputies to disperse the crowd of excited citizens, who had gathered outside the courtroom, evidently for the purpose of dealing roughly with the prisoners.

While the officers were forcing back the excited crowd, some of whom were crying, "Mob the devils," the prisoners were hustled downstairs unnoticed by the crowd and taken on a dead run to the jail and locked up, many excited citizens following in hot pursuit.

HAVE HAD ENOUGH.

If there is a Chautauqua given in Decatur another year it will be by other parties than those who have had charge this year. Their expenses were in the neighborhood of $4,000, which was barely paid by the reciepts. They have announced that while not regretting their labors, they will not undertake the work another year.

STOLEN PLUNDER RECOVERED.

MAYOR KNOCKED DOWN.

Mayor Murphy of Mt. Sterling was knocked down the steps of the opera house. Charles Riley, son of the marshal, was charged with knocking the mayor down and was fined eighty-eight dollars and costs this morning in court.

During the performance a gang of toughs became too noisy and the mayor requested them to be quiet. They kept up the racket, however, and the mayor told Henry Hill, a special policeman, to take the ringleaders out. Hill took Harry Hodgson out and was returning for others when he was accosted by Marshal Riley, and asked whom he had taken out. Hill told Riley it was none of his business and that he, Hill, could not be arrested, whereupon a free fight ensued in which the mayor was knocked down the stairs. It is alleged that Charley Riley went to the assistance of his father and the first person whom he hit was the mayor. Marshal Riley has been dispossessed of his star and other official ornaments and the city council was caleld to appoint a new city marshal.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead, and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant, as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CHICO CIGARS MAKE FRIENDS

Armstrong & Armstrong Say They are Now the Largest Sellers in Their Cigar Case.

Give a man a Wadsworth Bros.' Chico and you make a friend for life, and at the same time show that you are a smoker of good cigars.

Armstrong & Armstrong, who have the local agency for this brand say they never before introduced a cigar to their trade that gave such general satisfaction as the Chico, and although they have had them for only a short time they are to day the largest seller in their cigar case. It is quality that has made this sale, and that keeps increasing it from day to day.

"A man who first tried a Chico yesterday," said Armstrong & Armstrong, "will come in to day and get some more and we are sure that he will continue a friend to Chicos."

They are made with a long, clear Havana filler, of the best quality of tobacco, burn freely with a pleasant, mild fragrance, and although they sell for but five cents, are equal to most fifteen cent cigars, and superior to a great many of the ten centers. If you like a good cigar from imported tobacco, call at Armstrong & Armstrong's store for a Chico.

DELEGATE TO CONVENTION.

Miss Louise Capps left Wednesday evening for Lake View, Ohio, where she went as a delegate to the Young Woman's Christion association from the Chicago university.

SCROFULA FROM PARENT TO CHILD

The laws of heredity are invariable and the diseased blood of parents is handed down to children in the form of Scrofula. Being thus deeply rooted nothing can reach the disease but a constitutional remedy. The very foundation of the blood is diseased, and until it is purified and made strong, those who are born with a scrofulous tendency cannot have the blessing of robust health.

Cleveland, O., 122 Brownell St.

I inherited Scrofula from my ancestry, and this means, of course, weak, impure blood and a run-down, debilitated condition of the system. Treatment of physicians did not do me anything like the good S. S. S. did last winter when I took it. It promotes appetite and digestion, gives strength and energy, builds up the general health in every way, and in addition to being an excellent blood purifier it adds to its success as a remedy for Scrofula. It did more for me than anything I have used and with pleasure I recommend it. S. S. S. completely cured me of this blighting disease.

MRS. LOUISE COHEN,

S. S. S. the king of blood purifiers, is the medicine that is required, because it changes the quality of the blood by cleansing it of all poisons and impurities, building it up and strengthening the entire system. When S. S. S. has restored the blood to a healthy condition and forced out the scrofulous deposits, there is a sure return to health. No remedy has ever been found to equal this great vegetable preparation for the cure of all diseases arising from a diseased or impure blood supply. If you have Scrofula or any tendency that way write us all about your case and we will send you a book describing the disease and give, without charge, any medical advice you may need.

But what have you done?

As others have won.
You have plans, that when they are put in force
Will make you sublime.
You have mapped out a glorious upward course—
But why don't you climb?

You're not quite ready to buy, you say.
If you hope to win
The time to be starting is now—to day.
Don't dally, begin.
No man has ever been ready as yet,
Nor ever will be.
You may fail ere you reach where your hopes are set,
But try and see.

You are going to buy a piano, you say,
On the installment plan.
Your dreams are all right, but too far away—

Will not think of what you are going to do,
But of what you have done.

JAPAN'S NEW NAVY.

The Russian naval officers at Port Arthur, believing that the port would be recaptured by the Baltic fleet and desiring to save their ships for future use, opened the valves, greased the machinery and let the ships sink. The Japanese have raised four battleships and two cruisers, which will be acceptable additions to the Japanese navy. A vast store of Russian war material has also fallen into the hands of the Japanese, including hundreds of costly guns of heavy calibre captured at Port Arthur, at Dalny and in the battles in Manchuria. In ships and guns and in other material Japan is much better provided than she was at the beinning of the war, Russia has been, unwilling enough, a generous giver to Japan.

HOT WEATHER HAZARD.

A leading insurance journal has the following in regard to hot weather hazards: With the advent of the "dog days" comes an increase in the number of small fires which in the aggregate absorb a considerable portion of the fire insurance premium. The principal agent and the most dangerous is gasoline, and already the work of this inflammable and explosive substance is noticeable in the number of dwelling house fires. Our record of "Causes of Fires in Chicago," shows that twetny-six fires, directly traceable to gasoline, occurred during June in Chicago, the total since Jan. 1 being ninety. The dangerous quality of gasoline is the vapor, which, when mixed with air in a proportion of seven to one, will explode even more violently and with less provocation than gunpowder. In its ordinary use in stoves, especially prepared for its safe storage and combustion, there seems to be only a slight hazard, but the human element is not infallible, and familiarity breeds carelessness which inevitably brings disaster. At one time the underwriters recognized the increase in hazard caused by the use of gasoline and made the assured pay for the risk. But through competition this charge has been eliminated and now gasoline may be used for any purpose that the assured wishes, the only restriction being an endorsement on the policy as to the quantity to be kept and the receptacle for storing when not in use.

Left Handed Men's Hearts.

"I saw in the Record the other day that some anatomical and scientifically inclined persons are of the opinion that persons who are left handed are less liable to heart disease than those who are right handed," said an old baseball player. "I don't want to pose as an authority, but in the baseball world it has been notorious that left handed pitchers have never been able to keep up the pace with the good old right handers, and it has been declared by trainers that the exertion over the heart when the left hand is used for pitching is responsible for their collapse as great twirlers. This seems to be substantiated by the records to a great extent, and if the theory of those who claim that left handed men have stronger hearts held good these pitchers should have hearts that would withstand any strain."—Philadelphia Record.

Odd Inscription on a Coin.

"Millions for the contractors, but not one cent for the widows," is the inscription on a coin, dated 1863, which was received under peculiar circumstances by George A. Lee of this city a few days ago. The piece is apparently of a restricted issue, as none of the many persons to whom it has been submitted for inspection ever saw its like. It was accompanied by a letter mailed from Detroit and signed Howard Henzler, which informed the recipient that the coin was given him as a pocket piece twenty-five years ago in Raleigh, S. C., by the long since deceased father of Mr. Lee. The epistle concludes with the hope that "the son of my benefactor of long years ago may enjoy the good fortune that has been mine since its acquisition."—Philadelphia Record.

MEN PAST SIXTY IN DANGER.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." IT WORKED BOTH WAYS.

When some of the newspapers were printing funny stories about William Loeb, private secretary to President Roosevelt, during the last campaign, alleging that he was the "champion blame taker in America," because he was always so willing to assume responsibility for anything that went wrong at the White House, Mr. Loeb laughed with the very men who wrote the yarns.

But one day his patience was taxed. The president's train had been delayed seven hours between Philadelphia and New York while he was going to Oyster Bay. Next morning one of the New York dailies had these flaming headlines, "President's Train Water Bound—Loeb Not to Blame."

"See here, boys," said the secretary next morning at Oyster Bay, "that's going too far."

"Very well," said the reporter who had written the story, "I'll correct it tomorrow and say you were to blame."—Success Magazine.

Wabash Division Official Resigns—Must Not Exceed Fifty Miles Per Hour on Alton—Q, C. & St. L. Sold—Personal Mention.

Mr. J. S. Goodrich, superintendent of the St. Louis division of the Wabash, with headquarters at Moberly, has tendered his resignation, effective Sept. 1. Mr. Goodrich has been connected with the Wabash for thirty-five years and in that time has served as superintendent of all divisions. He desires to retire from active work and will take a needed rest. Mr. Richard Doyle, superintendent of the western division, will have his jurisdiction extended over the St. Louis division and the St. Louis and the western divisions will be merged, hereafter to be known as the Moberly division, embracing all lines west of the Msssippi river in the Wabash system, with headquarters at Moberly.

Alton engineers report that they have been notified that hereafter they must, under no circumstances, exceed fifty miles an hour with regular passenger trains. It is alleged that they sometimes exceed this speed, especially down long hills, where the temptation to "let her out" is strong, especially if the train happens to be a few minutes late. The conductors are also told that it would not often be necessary for their engineers to run so fast if there was less time wasted at stations, and they are urged to give the station work their personal attention with the idea of hurrying in every way possible.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Instructions For Ridding the House of Bedbugs.

The following treatment will eradicate bedbugs if instructions are followed: Crush half a pound of camphor balls or of gum camphor, put into a demijohn and pour upon it two gallons of alcohol. Cork, shake hard and leave all night. In the morning shake again and violently. Have one or two rooms well swept (always burning your sweepings), then with a syringe spray every inch of the room, especially cracks and the edges of the baseboard. Lift the edges of the carpet and send streams of the destroyer under it. It will hurt nothing. Shut the room up tightly for twenty-four hours, allowing no one to enter. You would better lock the door and clamp down the windows.

When you go in let it be in broad daylight. Should any eggs escape destruction and hatch repeat the process.

If persevered in it will rid your premises of the filthy pests within a month. The odor of drugs soon passes away.

To Make Macaroons.

For making macaroons flavored with lemon this recipe will be found of value: Beat the yolks of four eggs until very light with one pound of powdered white sugar, then whisk the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth. Beat into the beaten eggs and sugar the grated peel of one lemon and a half teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Mix in lastly and in small quantities the frothed whites and six ounces of flour. Roll the mixture into small balls, rub butter over them and lay them on a buttered paper, leaving a space between each. Bake in a hot oven.

To Test Flour.

In the first place, see that it is white with a faint yellow tinge. Then take some of it up in your hand and press it. It will fall apart loosely, not in lumps. Rub some of it between your fingers. It will not feel entirely smooth and powdery, but you will be able faintly to distinguish the different particles. Put a little of it between your teeth and chew. It will crunch a little and the taste will be sweet and nutty, without any acidity—that is, if it is a good bread flour it will do all these things.

Canning Snap Beans.

Take fresh snap beans, string and cut them as if for immediate use. Put a layer of the uncooked beans in the bottom of a crock and sprinkle over them a half cup of salt. Add another layer of beans, then more salt, until the jar is filled, having the salt at the top. Cover air tight. These will keep all winter and taste almost as well as fresh ones in the spring. When ready to use, take some of the beans and soak overnight to get off the superfluous salt. Cook like fresh beans.

Washing Lace Gloves.

Lace or silk gloves should be washed on the hands in tepid water and afterward rinsed in several clear tepid waters while still on the hand. Do not pass the soap through the hands, but always use the sudded water. A drop or two of ammonia in the second and last rinsing waters will prevent the gloves from becoming yellow. These washable gloves should be allowed to dry on the hands. If removed while only partly dry they will stretch out of shape.

Paint Smell Remover.

The smell of paint, which is so injurious to health, is easily removed from a room by standing in it a pail of cold water containing a large handful of hay or a cut up onion or two. The water alone would answer the purpose, but not so quickly as with the addition of the hay or onions. Leave the pail in the room for some hours, and then if the painty smell still lingers throw away its contents, fill it as before and leave it again to finish its work.

Delicate Lace Collars.

Do not wash these. Sew them carefully on to pieces of white cotton cloth and dip into a little benzine. Squeeze out into the hand once or twice and dry in a towel. Then put them out in the air to let the smell evaporate. When quite free of this iron carefully. Then remove from the calico.

Care of Brass Bedsteads.

Brass bedsteads should be dusted with a soft cloth every day, and if the brass looks soiled rub it with a cloth slightly moistened with sweet oil and then polish it with a chamois leather.

Antirust Paint For Iron.

Good varnish with enough red lead ground in oil to make it work like paint. The less rust there is on the iron to start with the better satisfaction you will have.

THE OUTLOOK IN RUSSIA

What a Noted Revolutionist Thinks Will Happen.

SERIES OF LOCAL OUTBREAKS.

Abraham Cahan Does Not Look For a French Revolution—Zemstvo Representatives Will Be Allowed to Meet and Dictate Terms For Representative Government—How Mobs Will Be Quieted.

"Is there to be a French revolution in Russia?"

The question was asked of Abraham Cahan, the well known Russian revolutionist and author of the remarkable novel of revolutionary Russia, "The White Terror and the Red."

"The question is not unnatural," said Mr. Cahan, "in view of the bloody outbreaks in Warsaw, the strikes and disturbances in so many Russian cities, the dramatic revolt in the Black sea fleet and the spectacle of a Russian battleship cruising the sea manned by mutineers and surrendered voluntarily after the rest of the fleet has shown itself afraid to use force on account of the general disaffection of the sailors. There may be a vast amount of bloodshed to come in Russia, but there will not be a French revolution in your sense, because the country is too vast and too heterogeneous."

"Then you do not look for revolution?"

"I do not say that," said Mr. Cahan. "There will be a series of local revolutions. Whether the central government can be overthrown is a question of time."

"How about the Black sea mutiny?"

"There were undoubtedly members of the revolutionary committee on the mutinous battleship. The Russian sailor is usually a little more advanced than the soldier. A very active propaganda has been going on among the sailors for the last three years. Some officers are members of the revolutionary organization. Undoubtedly the revolutionary party controlled this ship through representatives on board. In my novel "The White Terror and the Red' I describe a dynamite mine laid under a street for Alexander II. in case he came that way, although, as a matter of fact, he went another way and was killed by bombs. It is not generally known that the dynamite was supplied from the Croustadt navy yard by a naval officer."

"Will the autocracy be forced to yield?"

"I think it will. The reactionary element is represented by Boulygin, minister of the interior, and General Trepoff, minister of police. At present the reactionaries seem cowed. The press of Russia today is printing things which would have sent the editors to Siberia ten years ago. It is almost free. The 'underground press,' which is described in 'The White Terror and the Red,' is not much more radical than the regular papers. Even the conservative papers denounce the advisers of the czar. What is likely to happen is that the czar will yield, that the zemstvo representatives will be allowed to meet and will practically dictate terms for a representative government, free speech and amnesty for political offenders.

"Boulygin's constitution will be discarded and a more liberal constitution adopted. The mob will be quieted by the zemstvo representatives, who are in touch with the peasants, and by the revolutionists, who can influence the working people. But unless this is done promptly there will be an epidemic of bomb throwing and many violent deaths."

NOVEL CALENDAR.

One Designed by Flammarion Would Answer For Every Year.

Notwithstanding the disastrous results attending the attempts of French scientists at the time of the revolution to reform the calendar, this subject seems still to interest certain individuals, and the most recent proposition comes from M. Camille Flammarion, the well known astronomer, who intends to recommend to the French chamber of deputies a bill to make compulsory a new calendar he has devised, says Harper's Weekly.

M. Flammarion would commence the year at March 21, the vernal equinox, and divide it into quarters, each containing two months of thirty days and one month of thirty-one days. Consequently the year would consist of 364 days and there would remain an extra or fete day which would not belong to any single month. Leap years would be marked by two such fete days.

The new calendar is so designed that the same dates would always occur on the same days of the week, and one calendar would answer for every year.

A Statue to Adam.

After all these years a statue has been set up to that original and deserving person, Adam, says the New York World. It stands on Nicholas Engastos' front lawn, Ninety-fifth street, Chicago. The statue is of plaster and cost $836. Several of Adam's distant relatives subscribed. The statue represents a muscular man about forty years old, who wears a full beard and looks like a Russian.

Golf Without Profanity.

A new sect known as "Christian Golfists" has been founded by the Rev. George Cady, one of the best known Congregational divines in Iowa, says a dispatch from Iowa Falls. Dr. Cady, who is an enthusiastic golfer, manages to play the game without using profane language, and he thinks he can induce others to drop that habit.

SERVING A SUMMONS

[Original.]

Bernice Church was born in the army, brought up in the army and should have married in the army. Indeed, when she was eighteen she was engaged to Edgar Adams, a recent graduate from the United States Military academy. But her father was very much opposed to the match. Adams was beloved by every one, but he was a good deal of a scapegrace. Franklin Swift, the son of a wealthy man, having manifested a desire to marry Bernice, Colonel Church persuaded her to break with Adams and accept Swift.

When Adams received notice of the fact he simply remarked: "That makes me a bachelor for life. Let's have a bottle of wine." The only change noticed in his demeanor was that he fought harder than before.

Ten years passed. Adams, now a captain, secured a year's leave of absence for the purpose of studying cavalry improvements abroad, and on his way called upon his old flame. He found her in great trouble. Her husband was in a mire of debt, one of her children was very ill, she was herself in bad health, and, to cap the climax, her husband's father was at the point of death. The condition of affairs required that the husband get away in order to escape service for awhile from his creditors. Upon the death of his father he would inherit a fortune that would enable him to extricate himself. But to leave under the circumstances was next to impossible. The result of all this was that Captain Adams, with the help of an ingenious lawyer, assumed the debt and went into hiding. The case could not go on without Adams being summoned.

For a month Adams, who was an expert at Indian stratagems, found it easy to elude the bailiffs. Then they became as foxy as he. Having tracked him to the country place of one of his friends they set their wits to work to get him where they could read the summons to him. One evening just before dark Adams heard a furious firing in the grounds, and, true to a soldier's instincts, rushed out with a revolver; but, seeing a man coming for him with a paper in his hands, the captain fired several bullets over his head, checked his career and retreated to the house.

Soon after this attempt to serve him Adams was standing one morning at a window when a company of the state militia marched down the road not far from the house. Their commander in trying to have them countermarch got them into confusion. Adams threw up the sash and called the proper directions. While he was shouting the orders a man emerged from behind a tree, at the same time fumbling in his side coat pocket. Adams caught sight of him just as he drew a paper and closed the sash.

This escape made him more cautious for a time, but confinement was irksome to him, and he made an occasional sally in disguise. One evening at a restaurant a man at a neighboring table made offensive remarks to him, and Adams, going over to where he sat, slapped his face. The man did not at the time seem disposed to follow up the affair, but the next day Adams received a challenge from one Tucker.

Adams naturally inferred that the man was the one he had had the quarrel with, but wondered how the fellow knew who he was. However, he was too much of a fighter to avoid any encounter and accepted promptly. He at once sent for a brother officer, and the affair was arranged to come off at dawn in order to avoid the bailiffs.

Before leaving the house the grounds were searched, and the coast being clear the party drove away in a closed carriage. Finding the others already at the appointed place, the ground was paced off and the principals placed in position. Suddenly from behind neighboring trees a number of men stepped forth and surrounded the combatants. Then Mr. Tucker, throwing down his weapon, pulled a summons. Adams, disgusted at the turn the affair had taken, raised his pistol, aimed at the paper and put a hole through it, at the same time sending it floating on the morning breeze. He then knocked down three of the men surrounding him, but the paper was recovered and read to him before he could get away.

The doughty captain returned to the house he had been hiding in, much disgruntled at having been the victim of so well laid a trick. The truth is the man who had insulted him in the restaurant was one of the detectives watching for him, suspected his identity and had insulted him purposely. The captain had been shadowed on his way home and the challenge sent to trap him, but on his return he found a telegram that Mr. Swift, senior, was dead and there was no further necessity for his hiding.

Thus it was that Captain Adams saved the fortune of the man who had taken the girl he loved from him, and by doing so kept the family from ruin. As soon as his services could be dispensed with he proceeded on his trip, followed by the blessings of those he had served. On his return he hunted up the man who had fired a summons at him instead of a bullet and induced him to enter the secret service department of the army.

Ten years later Adams, then a colonel, returned to visit the Swifts. He found both father and mother dead, but in their oldest daughter he saw the counterpart of his old love. His exploits with the detectives had caught her fancy when a girl of ten and she was ready to fall in love with the middle aged colonel. And so the fortune he had saved for his rival he found useful to his own wife.

HAIR!

I allow my picture published for the benefit of any one who may be annoyed with dandruff. My head was simply covered with it, and my hair came out dreadfully. My head itched continually. I was advised by my doctor to try GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. I did, and since have stopped the itching, cured the dandruff, and as to my hair, it shows for itself. I shall never be without a bottle of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC.—Mrs. N. Allen, 1425 West Ohio Street, Chicago.

I make this sworn statement for the benefit of other people who are bald or getting that way. I have been bald for 14 years and on the 14th of July one year ago I commenced the use of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. The picture without hair is a correct one of myself as I have been, and the one with the hair on it as I am now since I used GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. My hair first came out after I had worn a sealskin cap, which I think was the cause. In three years after I was entirely bald. I may say in ninety days after using GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC I noticed a new growth of hair.

People addressing me will please inclose stamp for answer. August Frederick Schultz, 480 Cass Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Does your head itch? If so, this germ is lurking in your scalp. This germ you see here is 28,000 times its natural size. However, this is just as it looks under a powerful microscope. It can be found on any scalp that has dandruff. Some people have as many as two or three thousand. GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC destroys this germ and causes the hair to grow; besides cures any case of dandruff, stops the hair falling out in a very short time. Put up in 50c bottles only. This bottle is as large as most dollar bottles. We give no free samples. One 50-cent bottle will show for itself. Address all mail orders to the GERM-A-KILA MEDICINE CO., Milwaukee, Wis. ANY DRUGGIST CAN ORDER IT FOR YOU IF HE HAS NOT GOT IT.

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Wheat—Possibility of interference by rain with harvesting was indirect cause of firmness. The sharp upturn at Minneapolis was immediately responsible for a net gain of ¼@⅜c in September. Early foreign advices favored the bull side, although later cables were lower. Business was light. September opened a shade higher to a shade lower at 80½@80⅝c and under slight selling declined to 80⅜@80½c. Offerings were of indifferent character, however, and prices readily responded to an advance in the northwestern market, Minnesota and South Dakota reported rain with indications of showery conditions. Millers were said to have bought quantities of September against sales of flour for future delivery. On covering by shorts September advanced to 81c. Profit-taking brought about recession from the high point. The close was steady.

Corn—Good demand for export held prices steady at small advance. Cash houses were on the selling side, commission houses readily absorbing offerings. High temperatures in Kansas also exerted a sustaining influence, inducing some covering by shorts. September closed ⅜c higher.

Oats—Oats were dull and trading inclined to drag. Strength of wheat saved prices from suffering a loss and eventually caused a shade of improvement. Acceptances were liberal. September closed a shade higher.

LIVESTOCK.

Cattle—Receipts, 12,000. Prices for good cattle are advancing with decreasing offerings of the better class and an increasing percentage of range cattle. To day's market was a lively one with prices ruling about 10c higher on an average, fancy lots selling up to $6.30, a new high record. Exporters were fair buyers. Cows and heifers were in good demand. Good to prime, $5.35@6.10; poor to medium, $4.25@5.45; stockers, $2.25@4.15; cows, $2.20@4.50; Texans, $3.10@4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 15,000. Prices advanced on unexpected meagre receipts and good dmeand. Range of prices was 5@10c higher. Mixed and butchers, $5.80@6.40; good to choice heavy, $6.10@6.35; rough heavy, $5.75@6.00; light, $6.00@6.40; bulk of sales, $6.00@6.30.

Sheep—With estimated receipts of 18,000 sheep and lambs to day and brisk general demand prices rallied and were largely 10@15c higher. Sheep, $4.50@5.50; lambs, $5.50@7.75.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, Aug. 23.—Improved outlook for peace at Portsmouth was the potent factor in shaping the course of to day's stock market. This same feeling was reflected in the foreign market. Recent rise in coal shares is explained in part by advices from distributing centers telling of increased activity. Renewed strength of Amalgamated Copper followed another advance in the price of the metal and further demands at home and abroad for the refined metal, of which there appears to be but a small supply. In the last few minutes of trading there came a fresh outburst of speculation, which carried such stocks as Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and steel shares to the da's best prices and drove the shorts to cover. Local money conditions continue easy. The bulk of to day's call loans were made below 2 per cent, while rates show a yielding tendency. Closing figures:

Money on call steady at 1¾@2 per cent; closing bid, 1¾; oered at 2. Time loans steady and dull; sixty and ninety days at 3@3½; six months at 4.
Prime paper at 4@4½.
Exchange steady. Demand at 486.65; sixty days at 484.75.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

C. Unger, 211 Maple street, Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

How Rover Gave the Alarm and Pink Nose Found a Home.

Old Rover seldom barked. Only when there was great excitement and he wished to rouse the whole family did his heavy voice sound, and then every one came to see what was the matter. He lived in a little house all by himself out on the lawn, and at night he wore a great chain about his neck, for if Rover found it necessary to bark he might also think it necessary to take the situation into his own hands.

One night it was storming furiously, and the wind howled about the house. It was midnight when Rover's warning bark was heard. The children got up at once and came in mother's room. Papa said that the wind must have startled Rover, and they would wait awhile. But the dog barked louder and louder, and so papa dressed and went to the kitchen and looked out. Nothing unusual was in sight. He lighted a lantern and opened the side door. What do you think he found? Only a little stray kitten huddled up against the door and mewing plaintively. Papa took up the kitten and called, "It is all right, old fellow!" and Rover went back into his kennel.

Mother came down and gave the kitten some milk and made a little bed behind the kitchen stove, and that was the way that Pink Nose came to the house to live. They never knew how she came there, and if Rover knew he never told. He had done his part for the little wanderer.—Youth's Companion.

About the Stars.

There is a curious myth about the stars which tells that the sun and moon are both women. The stars are the children of the moon, and the sun at one time had as many. Fearing that mankind could not bear so much light, each agreed to eat up her offspring. The moon hid hers away, but the sun kept her word. After a length of time, the moon brought hers from her hiding place. When the sun saw them, she was filled with rage and chased the moon to kill her. This chase has lasted over since. Sometimes the sun comes near enough to bite the moon, and man calls this encounter an eclipse. All day long the moon hides her children, only to bring them out when the sun is far away.

Sir Isaac Newton.

In Woolsthorpe, in 1642, Isaac Newton was born. When a boy he was under the care of his grandmother. He was quick in his studies. When he was but a child he made a water clock and a sundial. One day he made a toy mill, and the miller was a mouse. Isaac loved the study of stars, and when he became a man he spent many nights looking at the stars through a powerful glass. He had a manuscript recording everything he had discovered about the stars, but his little dog upset a candle and burned up this valuable paper. At the age of eighty-five years Sir Isaac Newton died.

BURNED

Structure Belonging to Dr. Carl E. Black Consumed—Neighboring Property Threatened.

A destructive conflagration was narrowly averted Wednesday evening when the barn on the property of Dr. Carl E. Black on West State street was destroyed by fire. Neighboring property was endangered, and had it not been that the stillness of the evening permitted the firemen to wage a successful fight against the destroying element, a dozen or so buildings in the immediate vicinity would undoubtedly have been consumed.

The fire orginated in a somewhat mysterious manner in the loft of the barn in some hay, and was discovered by the stable man at about 8:30, before it had made much progress. The destruction was almost complete, the loss being probably $700, fully covered by insurance. A horse and five vehicles and all harness were saved, bue the loss included about seven tons of baled hay and straw and a quantity or furniture in storage in the structure.

Samuel Francis, an employe of Dr. Black, was sitting in the door of his quarters in the stable when he heard the crackling of flames. The room which he occupies is at the southeast corner of the barn, and the fire he discovered to be in the hay, in the loft above the northeast corner of the room. Dr. Black was at his office at the time the flames werwe discovered, and he was notified after the alarm had been sent in.

The department had a hard run up the hill to the scene of the fire, but immediately upon their arrival took prompt measures to prevent the spread of the flames, The Black barn connects with Mr. Rutledge's barn by a long carriage shed, and upon this the battle was waged against the flames, and by this means the progress of the flames was cut short, not, however, until the main part of the barn was consumed.

The burned structure is situated behind the residence of J. M. Dunlap, and is very near to the barns on the property of Mr. Wilson. Mr. Dickson, Mr. Rutledge, Mrs. Winterbottom and Mr. Dunlap. Had any one of these burned, it is probable that some of the residences would also have gone.

The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a live wire, or perhaps spontaneous combustion. The barn is wired for electricity, and there were wires near where the flames were first seen. Five tons of fresh baled hay were put into the loft recently, and this fact gives weight to the latter theory. The hay while going through the process of curing may have ignited spontaneously.

Mr. Francis, who discovered the fire, lost considerable property, which was in his room, and which he neglected to remove, in order that he might save more valuable articles.
